Love Is

love is a powerful world that should not be taking for granted love is not when you say i love you and you don't mean it love is when you would stay there when them when there world is cave in love is when you will stayed with them when all is lost love is not when you leave them when they need you the most love is when you need a friend the most and they are there for you love should never be taking for granted

Pain

pain can hurt some times in life so should i take my life or should i keep it if i live a other day then i have deal with pain pain by go home to get beat by my father pain by not being love pain by going to school to get bully pain by going to school to get call a loser pain by getting stab pain by not having a friend to be there for me so should i kill my self i can go outside and hang my self i can shoot my self i can drowned my self i can jump off a house but this it is only a temporary solution

Who Am I

i look at my self and i ask my self
who is this why do i live
who am i

Wings Of A Eagle

i wish i can fly on the wings of a Eagle leave this world of pain behind fly in the sky were no one bounds live the life that no one dares not fished working on it let me know what you think of it
