He Knows

But You, O LORD know me;
You have seen me,
And You have tested my heart toward You.
- Jeremiah 12: 3a NKJV

He knows our name
Even before we were born
And even when we still don't know Him

When He was carrying the cross,
When He was beaten and condemned,
He was thinking of you..

He knows your heart
He knows that on one moment of your life
You would fail Him.
He knows your future;
What will happen to you
And which road you'll choose.

But still,
Even though
You are not sure
If you are going to believe in Him,
He still didn't say a word
Or walked out from crucifixion.

He knows
Yes, He knows
That you will fail Him
But He still...loves you.

Open your heart and let Him in.

Jeremiah 17: 7

This is a poem from my September 6,2011 devotion, inspired by Jeremiah 17: 7 that says, 'Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD, and whose hope is the LORD.'

May God bless you dearly as you learn to trust and hope in Him alone.

In my hardest time
If my opinions were declined
I will trust You

If my future is unsure
And the road is obscure
I will be still and hope in You

When everything else fail
And all I could do is to wail
Remind me to trust

When I see things not right
And tomorrow's not bright
Let me feel the hope in You.

Here I stand looking through my windowpane
As the world's being washed by the drops of rain
It was like the love I feel for you
The endless travel I've been through
I've been to many places but still,
I haven't found you.

Love of my life, where have you been?
Why do you keep me waiting?

I'm walking in the sunshine
Watching lovers as they passed by
But I'm still holding on, holding back fears
Because I know, somewhere out there
He's making his move, he's striving hard and waiting, for the right time.

Waiting is the very hardest part
But there's a voice inside of me
Telling it's the best thing to do
So I will be right here,
Just right here
Waiting for you

I believe that there's someone out there
Waiting for the right time too
He'll be with me, I'll be with him
We'll create a happy ending!

Waiting is the very hardest part
Especially if there's no one to wait from the start
But I believe, Oh I believe
We will meet in the future
Wait for me, I'll wait too
And we'll share a love so pure

Love of my life where have you been?
I will be just right here

(The first two lines were the line made by a friend of mine during high school, we were 15 at that time, and it was last June 6,2010 that I made this poem,3 years after we graduated. I like to share this to you especially for those young people like me out there. I know I used simple words to make this poem but it was what my heart speaks at that moment...and up to now. Let me just encourage young people out there-I hope there are haha-to wait patiently. I know it's hard, but we have to trust God with the pen of our love stories. Believe that there is someone out there, waiting for the right timing too. Isn't that sweet that you two waited and obeyed? :])

Today I Will Choose To Praise God

Today, I will not think of things that make me sad
Because today is a new mercy from God.
Today, I will smile so the world will see the love and grace of God that is in me.

There is a sunshine waiting for me
There is a hope that I can clearly see.
A life with my Maker, Bestfriend, Lover, Father:
My Bother, my Life, my Refuge, my Everything

Today, I will sing of His greatness
For He changed my life that was once a mess.
I will choose to obey His word
To trample the enemy, for it's a sharp Sword.

I am overwhelmed by His grace
It's so wide and deep, I can't contain it
I am caught in His embrace
Knowing He loves me, Oh how sweet!

Yesterday, my life was once in darkness
Where life was nothing but full of distress.
Then I found God, Who saved me
He put a smile on my face and set me free

So today, I will choose to praise God
Just today. Because today will be yesterday
And tomorrow will be today.
So I will praise God forever.
In His word will I Obey :)

Will You Be There?

If, in my lonesome moment
When all I can do is to lament
Will you be there?

If, in my deep distress
And all I want is your caress
Will you be there?

When in my pain and sorrow
If I don't want to see tomorrow
Will you be there to show me a rainbow?

Will you be there if I need you?
Will you be there when I when I want to run to you?
Would you tell me that I am worth loving?
That I am not alone?

If, I found joy in this life
And you helped me to the light
If, I want to spend eternity with someone
Will you be that one?
