My Dying Mother

You really scared me with your humor
You really scared my little heart

I feel like running out of line and words
Speaking with her sparkling eyes

But full of pains benefit the sound
I sense nothing but death coming closer

Like the days get older anytime the clock tick.
I have never discover it was like a time bomb

Set aside to get me explode
Get me the doctor call me a vehicle

Let me take her out for treatment
They all steer at me like a mirror waiting for her

To give up so they could celebrate for their mission

They are the real enemy I knew waiting for The right time to strike they are the real serpent

Waiting for the right time to bit

They cannot bit this one she is only my dying mother

I wish she get well soon.

A New Nigeria Is Born

I have witness the birth of a new country

I have witness the birth of a new nation

I have witness the birth of the new people

I have witness the birth of a new Nigeria

My people have stand up for their right

My people have unite as one

My people have seen through the back of a mirror

My people have seen the future at once

The street have been bath with blood

The earth have welcome the new heroes of my country

The soil have taste the blood of the youth

The earth have ear the cry of our fallen heroes

Today the 20th day of October 2020

We have given birth to a new people

We have given birth to a new nations

A nation that stand as one on the earthly soil

We have given birth to a new country

A new Nigeria is born

Love Is God

love is like the little wind that wisper

Love is like the little raindrops that wet the skin

Love is like the sweetest melody that raise me up from my bed every morning

Love is peace love is kind love is patience

Love is like a saint of the lovely roses

Love is like the rhythm and tones of the very sweet sound of the soul.

Love is the only feeling that touches the heart and soul

Love is patience, love is peace love is wonderful

Love is like the greatest felling that cannot be deny by men

That is why I call it happiness, Peace of mind, that why I say love is God

Write A Nice Title About Your Poem Here

Take a deep breathe and write your poem here :)

A poem usually looks like this:
From childhood's hour I have not been
As others were; I have not seen
As others saw; I could not bring My passions from a common spring.

Everything Will Be Okay

Life may be thought

Life may be unpleasant

Life may be dangerous

Life is like a fight.

But all will be well

But all will be great

But all will be good as rain drops

But life might be so dangerous

I may have nothing to offer to you

I may have lot to give to you

I may have everything to offer you

But everything will be okay

Everything will be okay as soon

As the sun still shine

Everything will be okay as soon

As the rain still fall

Everything will be okay as as soon

As as happiness is built in the heart of my people

Everything will be okay as soon as love

Rules the world everything will be okay.

Waiting For The Rain

Stock by the rain drops
Stock by thunder roar
Hiding like a visitor in the neighbor's compound

When will this rain stop?
When will the lazy rain give ways?
When will I get to work?

Hey lazy rain I know it your time
To bless the earth and plant
I know it your time to shower blessings on us like prayer

But you have to give way for a moment so I can get to the office
I have no other means of income
Even corona virus have set the earth on fire

The government have us lock up like rats
In a cage without food or water
My people her hungry and sad
I am tired of sitting idle I am tired of waiting for you to stop
I am waiting for you lazy rain
Because duty calls and I have to answer.

My Best Friend

Best friend are like angels
Sent by the creator
To guide and protect me

She is truly an angel sent
By god himself for my personal
Protection and hope for tomorrow

She guide my every step like
A mother guide his little child
She make me laugh always

She was a natural lady
With her every smile like
The wind of beauty

I thank the creator for Giving me such a wonderful
Person as my best friend

Beautiful like the ocean
Goddess, she smile like
A princess of ferries with Her white teeth like the snow drop

Her heart was as calm like
The wind blow of june and july
Rain she is truly my best friend.

A Precious Seed

I throw a bird to the sky
It fly toward the sun ray
And spread it wings to feel the sun
I throw a water to the sky
It fell back to the earth and
Wet my lovely skin.
I throw a stone to the sky
It fell back to the earth and
Stock in the midst of the dust
I throw a seed to the sky it Fell into the dust, but after the Rain drop and sun shine
The seed rise into a plant and
And grow fresher and stronger.
It grow up and produce more seeds
When I breath a sound into the sky
And sing but after many years I Found thy song in the heart of a Little boy I found the chorus falling
Out from his leaps, my little sound
Have become a melody.
I have planted a precious seed
In the heart of my people

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

My Heart On Fire

Why must you choose this way?
Why must you speak those words?
Why must you make me worthless?
Why must you break my words?

You have set my heart on fire
You have destroy my world
You have turn me into rags
You have make me worse than dead

I have given you all that I have
I have given you even my soul
I have given you all that you ask for I have given you more than you ask for

All in the sake of love
All in the name hope
All in the sake of commitment
All in the sake of peace

Beyond all I have given to you
Yet you set my heart on fire.

The Raining Days

Why talk about the raining days when summer have just arrive

Why talk about the raining days when we have a lot to do in this moment of ours.

Life have given us lot of days but my raining days, they are like my lazy days on earth where tears and sadnessfill my heart like river when even the sun smile seems dangerous

The days when I lost to love and hope a day where happiness is nowhere to be found a day like no other a day where tears is the only companion I have, days without hope days without joy days without happiness a day without favor or peace of mind days like this are not to be prayed for days like this are not to be expected days like this are not to be creates hope not for the raining days.

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

Why Must We Love

Looking at the sun, moon and stars
Looking at the trees, land and seas
Looking at the stages of life and natures
Looking at the effort of human and life's

Are we here to suffer and cry?
Are we here to drink and smile?
Are we here to serve natures?
Are we here to dry our tears?

Why must we sin if we are of god?
Why must we cry if we are of nature?
Why must we suffer if we are of the creator?
Why must we love if we are of love?

Emmanuel Chibuikwe Ikechukwu

Little Hope

I have planted thee but hope I call in the days of summer

I have planted thee but seed I call in the raining days

I have given them all I have for that days to come that I will harvest

I plant thee with the love stored in my mind and happiness in it like the little bottle of honey

I have given all of my time with love and happiness, peace and unity is all I have given to what I have planted

I have planted but hope in the heart of my people peace in the mind of the children for as long as they breathe my little hope shall remain in their memory forever.

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

The Little Bird Cry

I can hear the sound form a far distance
I can hear it clear as I say
A cry from a bird
A call for help
I can see the little bird
Higher above the mountain
I can hear it cry
Calling for the rain
To bless the dry soil

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

Eagle Eyes

Her eyes like the morning sun
Her face like the sun light
She was like an eagle above the sky
Looking for the right place to stay
Looking for the right heart to enter
I have seen her long before today
I have love her long time ago
Her heart is large like the sea
Her voices cool as the morning breeze
With are sharp straight eyes like an eagle
I wish I have lot of time I will have to talk about her
She was as gentle like a dove
With her lovely eyes like the sky
Her eyes can see every sport
She was as silence like the cobra
She is for real eagle eyes

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

Life Is Like Melody

Why is life so precious?
Why is life so mine?
Why is life so beautiful?
Why is life so dangerous?

Life is not like ferry tales
Life is not, cock and bull story
Life is not all about melody
Life is not a game

Why do we die?
Why do we live?
Why do we love?
Why are we here?

Life is like a story we have to tell
Life is like a music we have to sing
Life is like that lovely sound from thy sea we have to listen
Life is like melody we have to sing along

Emmanuel Chibuikwe Ikechukwu

A New Day Is Born

As soft as the raindrop
As cold as the snow
Melt within a seconds
As jentle as the wind blow

High above the earth
A new sound take over
As the jentle wind blow
The dull cloud disappear

As lovely as life it rise
As jentle as dove it rise
A new sun is born
A new earth have been created

New life have been made
New day have started counting
As the clock tick! tick! tick!
Like a melody the new sun rises

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

I Will Rise And Rise

I will rise and rise
After every fall

I will rise above
All and rise higher
Above the wall of china

I will rise and rise
Like the sun that Set at night

I will rise like the moon
And stars across the sky
I will rise above the highest Mountain

I will rise like thy plant
Higher and higer till
I touch thy sky

I will rise above the sky
I will rise across the earth
I will rise like the greatest nations africa.

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

Trust Not

Trust not any man thy might bring you down

Trust not any friend they might kill you

Never feel safe or put your trust on any one

They might enslave you

Trust not any woman they are like serpents

They are only waiting for the right time to strike

Trust no body if you really want to achieve your goals in life

Trust no person if you really love your life

Trust not and put your trust on the almighty if you want a peaceful life.

A Little Plant

A seed buried deep
In the soil soil
Lay fast asleep like
A new born baby

Wake up the sound
Of the rain drop
Wake up the southern Weeds called

As the sun smile
The plant rose up
And feel the southern
Wind of beauty

As the sun bless
The green leaves
With a ray of peace
A new plant awake.

Emmanuel Chibuikwe Ikechukwu

Lost Of Viginity

But in-experience
The first day seems
Like the last day.
You've feel how painful
It is to loose it.
At last its gone it will Never locate you again
In this life time
What next? You said
Should I continue
Should I take it as a lesson
You'll hate yourself
But the deed is done.

Emmanuel Chibuikwe Ikechukwu

Oh Tick

Tick tick the days call
The hour is counting
The minutes is not even waiting
As the sound of the clock tick
Telling you today is going
You can change yours
But you can't change the world clock
Oh tick tick it sound today is going.

Leviathan

Who released this mad woman
From her cage
She maketh her husband cry always
She will never give birth
She will never make him happy
She fought with every woman
Who gossiped about her
She can't cook
She never care
Nothing good but hot temper
You can't divorce her
You can't cheat her
You can't love her
Who give birth to a bastard
Who give birth to jezebel
Who give bith to leviathan

Tell Them To Cry Now

When I am death
Please don't cry
Cry now when I am still living
So I could dry your tears
Time will come when my soul will fly
And tell the children not to weep at my grave
I will not be there to say sorry
You tell them only to pray so the sky will open
Like the butterfly wing
So my soul could fly across thy cloud
Tell them I am steal close like a shadow
To erase their fear and wipe away sorrow from their mind
Tell them I will plant a rose
In the garden of love

Emmanuel Chibuikwe Ikechukwu

I am now nothing without you

My body is full of bruise
I have been cut by love

Let it bright like the sun and chase away the darkness

I said I love you but you take me as a joke
You placed my love around the coner of the bridge you think the wind of silence can move
It Down to feet of the ocean

Bad Food

Oh! A bitter taste

A bad smell

Who owns this spoils food

That smell around when opened up

No man would ever eat from it

Even a mad man will reject it

Never ever try to taste it

Who owns this bad daughter

Who owns this bad food.

Sun On A Journey

Is like the most dull day I have ever seen all my life
I ask myself is the sun on holiday may be is on a trip
I found nothing bright but dull cloud with a cool wind from the ocean
The yellow leaves from the trees drop to the floor like rain drops
The birds of the sky disapper like stain
The wind take over the sky like a king sitting on his throne to rule
I say to myself the sun is on a journey to a place different from earth
Mother nature bless our days with lovely wind and my heart with your purity.

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

Sincerity Charming

Can I trust you princess charming
She smile all day without feeling hurt
She laugh as if sorrow was never in the world
She kissed slowly like enduring forever
Those lips of yours 'can I trust them'
Your sexy eyes 'can I trust them'
Your soft and beauty skin 'can it be trust
Through I've seen many men pleading
For you to come and enjoy all thy have But your choice was different
That you prove to me you're not after carnal things
Many said it was wrong for you to tell me 'I love you'
Which I didn't even take serious at all That many men will jump at it without asking why
What I hated most in me is what you have loved most You have gave me a second opportunity to live in this world you have give me a better face to wear
But can I trust you that I wouldn't wake up in the middle of the night and never found you by my side that you've gone
Gone forever is this love sincere to charm me this way?

Emmanuel Chibuike Ikechukwu

Moon Light

It bright like the morning sun above the sky shine like the bright diamond loud

Make my night full of sweet dreams

Bless my lover where ever she was with your love brightness make my night full of joy

Moon of happiness moon of joy moon of wisdom moon of peace

My Friend My Foundation

The rain fell
The sun shines
Everyday on us
Instead of getting weaker
We look absolutely. Stronger
Our foundation is so solid
Oh!my love my partner, my friend
My solid foundation
Like an 'iroko tree' we stand forever
My friend my foundation

Rocking Chair

Oh grand pa
didn't you missed your rocking chair
That relaxed your weak back
That give you time to think about the past
That makes you strong all day
How I wish you are here
To carry me on your legs
Like those days. Oh!
It's all faded away
Like a wind blow
I just want to remind you that your Rocking chair is still vacant

A Bitter Truth

What a joy
I owe no one debt
No man can question me
No more pain
No more loss
No hunger dare to challenge me
I am now free like the wind
I am free like the fishes in the ocean
I am free like the butterflies
I am free like death
I feel cold and happy
Oh! for I've committed suicide.

Kojo The Devil

Who give birth to kojo
Who give birth this goat
That called him a son of Mr trouble! mr evil!
He that sleepeth not under his father roof he that almost stone the king to death
He that no man dares to talk to The day light criminal
The ali baba of our time
His father dared not question him
Who gave birth to the devil
Who gave birth to kojo.

To My Grand Ma

She smile like the rainbow weave me like a child carry me like her precious treasure care for me like her eye ball.
she never leave me to think alone she know when I have mischeat she know all I have been thinking about only when she look into my eyes, like she share my thought together with me she recognise the sound of my voice even in the middle of the market she call me her own special name (my grand pa) she sing and tell me stories every night she lay me on the bed and sing for me till I sleep off she never left me alone with my though she always share it with me she was like a resting piller of my heart she bring out the real me
I miss you a lot grand ma she was the through africa mother rest in peace grand ma.

My moon, my star, my sun

King Of Drunkers

Hey! Hey! Hey! The sound rise
Rise like the morning train sound
Here he come again the king of the drunker
He never care about what comes next in life
All he does was drink
He never give life time to follow a patch way
He create his own style with drinks
No man dear to defeat him
When you speak about drink
He speak out all his mind
When he is filled in control of alcholic
He is the king of drunkers.
